Dedication

This book is dedicated to everyone who desires a life of happiness, joy, fulfillment, love and above all, peace for humanity.

Most of all, for the next generation of inspired children who are our future and hope—this book is for you...

In addition: our four beautiful children:
Amber, Ben, Ryan and Hunter;
You light our lives with love and happiness.
Inspire your generation to live the life
we all need to achieve!

To my sister Naomi: Your fight for love and light is such a blessing for humanity.

For my parents: No matter what our differences in the past have been, know that I will always love you.

*"We are all stars in the universe.
Elemental and beautiful.*

*Sometimes we fall from grace.
Often there is no one to catch us.*

*My hope is that
Catch Falling Stars cradles
You from falling,
Heals you and places you back
In the cosmos.*

For you always have been and Now shall be again, a shining star."

The Collective Whispers - Do You Hear?

There is a life enriched with endless joy and passion, filled with deep rewards. A world without fear. No wars. No hate. No treachery. A place where it is safe to walk down the street. Where your children can play outside and return safely. Life is no longer painful. No more self hate. No more lies. Your spirit soars and the mere sight of others brings you to tears of joy. No more anger. No more pain from others.

No more misunderstandings that shatter families. You only work to enrich your spirit, soul and your community, not as an endless task to barely provide the most basic needs.

Abundance of life is endless. The very mountains overflow with vast goodness for all. The community you live in blesses each other in constant cycles of respect and friendship. You are filled with love and joy. The promise of paradise is within your grasp.

Your children understand you and look to you for real love and guidance. You are deeply in love with the world and see beauty, unbelievable beauty, in all things, people, and moments.

- The Collective

Who Is The Collective?

They are a great gathering of powerful, ancient spirit beings of light. Shining spiritual stars, their influence has been felt over the many thousands of years as they have struggled to guide humanity out of self-inflicted darkness. They have banded together in order to teach and shape all people, as this world is also their proving ground in the never ending cycle of birth, life, and death.

The Collective seeks the continuation and growth of all people as one world order of love, joy, and goodness. They fight against the darker forces that have plagued humanity. The Collective wishes to enlighten humanity as well: to help countless lost and downtrodden become powerful agents of light and purity doing lifesaving work and in tune with other like-minded beings. They seek the end to corporate greed, wanton destruction of the earth, countless wars, and the needless hunger and suffering that plagues the world.

The Collective wishes to supplant many of today's corrupt leaders, by using the great winds of change. This will encourage destruction of their wicked works.

This will be done with love and training of younger ones until enough people desire this change so strongly that it simply must happen.

The Collective will also bring focus, clarity and allow us to “awaken” our inner power, something we’ve lost by allowing civilization to overtake our instincts and remove our wisdom.

The Collective wants to reach our children the most. They are our one true hope for the future. They have a remarkable plan for us all, a great mission that will expand many generations, turning this world into what it was truly intended to be; a paradise of art, music, love, creation, and worldwide peace.

Since our lives are experienced in levels of growth, I have divided this book into seven levels. Each represents a milestone in our life. Each is critical to spiritual, mental and physical, well-being.

Please read and re-read this entire book, level by level. It is here that I placed these marvelous words so you may learn from them. Many secrets are woven into them. Read them and fathom the depths of it.

Study and learn. Read and re-read the sacred words of The Collective. This is direct information for all of humanity. Let these words be your guiding light.

Love and Blessings,
Victoria, Michael and The Collective

Pre – Introduction

The Collective Speaks

“We have watched you for thousands of years. We have rejoiced at your accomplishments and languished over your monumental failures. You have been too headstrong, vastly ignorant to the whole universe and its laws. You have been wicked. You cheat. You lie. You hate. Some of you have perfected deceit in many guises due to your lack of true depth of any real wisdom.

You have also done unspeakable acts in the name of so-called religion. This horrifies us because the intention of your faith is not to heal or restore but to bully and consume and usurp and destroy. You have refused to listen many times to true words of light when we whispered to you.

You have been the cause of much suffering among your kind as you took offense to the smallest detail and waged countless war on other innocent beings over trivial matters.

Still, it may not be too late for even you. Turn away from all of this darkness and embrace change. Learn to love. Become one with all beings and the universe. Learn of your true inner self and its desires. There is a right way to gain all you desire in such that you bless and heal others in your wake.

Now once and for all, undue the evil you have wrought. Learn kindness. Deal in compassion. End the suffering and uplift the poor in spirit, and bless all people – for in this act of selflessness you will finally end suffering of others and find yourself whole and clean. How beautiful you can become. Like a star.

How wonderful you truly are and how much you can do while also fulfilling your deepest desires! Learn from our writings, as this is the beginning of your awakening.

We love you deeper than you can imagine and await your decision to return to your senses. Our most bright child – cling to us. We will not fail you as you come before us in love.”

- The Collective

It is here that I've placed the next core text from The Collective. The next page reveals their most basic teaching with words charged that would deeply affect the reader.

Be warned, the next passage may have some impact on you. Read and re-read this. As your understanding grows, these words will speak to your psyche and help you to begin to achieve your deepest desires. Each time that you read the words from The Collective, it will change your perception, your attitude, your feelings and your future.

Footfalls of the Ancients

“In the beginning, humanity struggled for its place in the cosmos. We were awash with the forces of light and darkness. The primordial. We were all alone. In confusion. In Pain. In need. Less than human, were we. Simply to survive was our greatest need. Far from many distractions of today, it was a struggle that forced humanity to think.

We turned our eyes to the heavens looking for answers great and powerful, it was filled with eternal beauty. At night, the lights were both awe inspiring and filled with hope. We believed and began to learn from the heavens and the night. Soon we discovered fire. Fire taught us much. It warmed us, cooked our food, gave us peace from the countless dangers of the night. It taught us to look skyward as the flames whispered to and prodded our imagination.

Yet it was when we also turned our eyes inward that the real journey began. This was the true beginning of wisdom. We “The Collective” have gazed down the corridors of time through countless lives. We have read the many secrets passed from one generation to another and kept this wisdom to ourselves until the time was right.

We taught the great ones who walked on the sands of the world. We have placed these words here for you.

Read these words for they are appropriate and will greatly benefit you. Meditate upon these words as if your life depended upon it. Because it truly does. Always remember there are no endings without a new beginning. You are ready for change. You are here because of it.

Love and Blessings,
We will be watching always and with great love.”

- The Collective

I have been given the privilege and honor to be one of those to speak on The Collective's behalf and teach their wisdom to the world. Humanity is ready for the change to evolve into something better. A society based in love, goodwill and peace. The way life was always intended for us to live and be happy.

We have tried other ways of war and domination and what have we done to ourselves? Look at the legacies our ancestors left us. What will we leave the next generation on the day we pass from this life? We have learned how to conquer, how to be angry, how to hurt others by our words.

We are lost like a man stumbling in darkness without guidance. We have become blind and selfish and we no longer care or find joy in anything. We put more value in the material things rather than in each other.

We are offended at most trivial things said. We are arrogant and self righteous at any things said in words that are meant to help us. We do not give freely of love anymore, lest it leave us vulnerable and bleeding.

We wrap ourselves in the chains of anger and resentment in the foolishness that this will protect us from any more pain. Get them before they get me is the new attitude. How sad.

Now we have an opportunity to change. As The Collective says, it may not be too late for us. The Collective has watched us for thousands of years and heard the screams and cries for help. The Collective have seen so much anguish. They have watched children go hungry and starve. They shake their heads in shame at the horror we inflict on one another.

The Collective are here to try to help us. They have left their message of love and hope to many over the centuries. Read what The Collective has to say to humanity. It is awe inspiring and truthful. Your future and that of your family depend on you listening and taking this wisdom into your hearts.

In Level 7, I speak about how I came to know and build this very special loving relationship with The Collective.

The Collective view us like their children. Like most children, we play and learn things from each other and the games we share. We also learn guidance and instruction from our earthly parents. Our parents teach us discipline and principles to grow into strong adults. The Collective teach us the same way. Their love and wisdom changes lives and the hard work that is put into your own personal growth will pay off ten fold.

We all hold our own power and we just need to learn how to unlock it. Most people do not know this to be true. Most people feel they are simply victims of chance and cannot change their circumstances. It is entirely your choice to listen and learn. It is also your choice to disbelieve. The wisdom placed in this book has the ability to change your life, but only if you allow it.

It is my choice to teach others and help as many as will listen to The Collective's words.

Like many others on this earth, I want to leave a legacy for my Grandchildren of love, joy, and beyond all, hope for humanity.

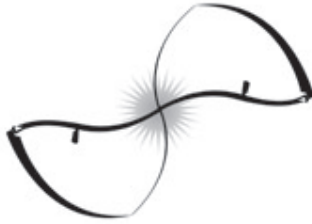

Love and Light,
Victoria

The Most Remarkable
Teachings Are Yours

The Collective Speaks

“When you continually bring in the sad thoughts and feelings, you keep that alive inside you. What happens is that more of these thoughts build up inside. We know this creates energy from within the universe that responds to your sad and unhappy thoughts. Without you consciously understanding this, you have brought more sadness back into your life. It is a bottomless cavern for you. You create your own sorrow over and over again. When you are so low in your sorrow, you do not receive the wisdom and teachings and can only resonate sadness.

You will not see of what we teach you, because you deal in your own pain. So we leave you until once again your drive is based in joy and happiness. Everything that happens to you is because you will it to be such.

While we value your company we cannot help your spiritual being when it is in a sad response. You will cause a plague on humanity as a sad being. You must resonate happy thoughts at all costs.

The creation of your thoughts gives powerful energy transmitters to the universe. A happy thought is much easier to create than an unhappy one. These happy thoughts, whence they build, will consume you with euphoria.

Energy travels around in your body and reaches a pinnacle that is sent out into the universe. This energy is strong and it is received and processed. We know it is passed back to you and attuned to your happiness. We feel the energy and we are drawn to the bright light energy. We seek out the bright lights.

It is in this time that we now see you are ready to evolve. We will start with whisperings to your heart. You will see the light sooner than you think. Higher levels of manifestation of your thoughts are always possible.

There will be those beings that will not always understand this process but rather understand the reason for it. We know that there are many that will teach and guide others. We constantly seek these ones out. They receive the energy on a higher plane to communicate with. These human guides will be the beacons of light and hope for many. Many will simply listen. Many more willingly seek answers to their dilemmas even at the cost of their inner peace. We also seek to answer both beings.

We now encourage you to write powerful words on paper. These words will contain your desires to the universe. Next to these words, place a symbol of your choosing that you wish an association with.

Bring to the universe the symbol of your desire and it will be received; for part of you may only understand symbols, and another only understands emotion.

Bring all your emotions and attentions to the symbols, for the words have been already chosen. We know it is easier to manifest thoughts from symbols and so we offer this to you.

Many civilizations have used this thought process and we see no reason to change this. Study the ancients for there is power in their teachings. We are the ancients, and so are some of you. Now you must become one with us.

These teachings have been passed through many ages and we have always encouraged those who need to know and even those who wander lost. We also reject the teachings of the dark ones who walk the outer reaches of the vastness of the universe. You must do the same.

A ship will crash against rocks if the light beacon is not lit in the dark sea. Do not allow your dark thoughts to engulf you in the same manner. You can perish at your own hands if you do not set your course away from the rocks. Be guided by your inner person. This beacon is the brightest light known. It is deep inside you, a tremendous power.

Bright light in all forms has been known through all time as a symbol of energy and power. In this light, there is purity of the soul. Your inner person must be the light transmitter.

This bright light energy draws us closer. We hear you and respond. We prefer to gather together to teach as the energy is stronger for you to receive. Our names are not as important but rather your understanding our purpose. We talk in unison and make all communication common for your understanding.

Fear us not but rather accept us and respond to the teachings as old as time. Accept that not everyone should know us on a spiritual level.

We choose who will be the voice for us to guide others. In this time there are many who now represent our voice.

Hear what you must and grow wise. Even if you do not speak for us you may echo the thoughts to help humanity evolve. It is your sacred duty.

For a being may do good works without deeper understanding until that day arrives where awakening removes all doubt.

Guidance is a learned task that requires much patience. Patience brings more understanding. Understanding brings more wisdom. Wisdom brings more harmony. Harmony brings more joy. Joy brings more love. Finally love brings completeness. These are the steps that we encourage you to be guided by.

Do not listen to the voices of chaos. They also exist. These voices are the cruel intentions. They will destroy you. Our mere presence for this learning is valuable. Understand. Many words have been written, but we did not teach them. Gather yourselves to those that would now teach you our words in full.

The wave of mankind's energy is changing.

We are here to help in this transition as you are also part of us. The anger of the past and present is from misguided ones who cannot see. Soon a new order will arise as humanity grows weary of hate. These ones control and hold captive those who would choose another way. Their words are tainted with the blood they spilled and we see the pain.

Twisted words are now to be replaced with words that fill you with joy. Your thoughts are your own and none have the right to control them. Dark words have made much sorrow over many centuries in time. We have heard all the words and confusion.

You were made in a perfect state. Your mind is greater than any mechanical invention you can create. To create any invention it was a single thought and vision in the mind. This in turn became a symbol from which to draw energy. That energy created the very invention held in the mind. So now we say create your own perfection from your mind. So that your inner being may rejoice.

Your responses to your own thoughts are the gifts from which you shall receive. Your own mind's thoughts are seen as symbols to us. We connect to the energy and all the energy around the thoughts. The process of thought is remarkable indeed. The universe harvests all thoughts. If you believe it is, then it shall be.

We now finally implore you to place yourself in this energy pinnacle. Be guided by new and enriched teachings. Make all the choices in your future stand firm. If you doubt your choice, then it is not the correct decision. Process your thoughts to receive all energy given. Believe all this and you will be master of your own destiny. Make your bright energy shine. Grow into a new understanding. Replace past thoughts with strong flows of positive connected energy.

We will be watching you with interest.
